POLITICAL.

Under that most infamous "Act" of the most infamous body of legislators in the world, Henry O'Mahone - an American citizen-unaccused of any crime-unar raigned-as the law demands-was arrest ed, and languished in prison for monthswithout redress; and the Republican Ad ministration at Washington refused to in terfere in his behalt! Is it necessary to ask why? History has given the answer. "The curre of Swift was on him -he was an Irishman!" Yet Irish-American citizens are, today, asked to vote for James G. Blaine, the paid official of the United States Govern ment, who, thus-deserted the Irish-American "suspects" in the very beginning of their most urgent hour of need, and who now tries to put off on the shoulders of his successor, Frelinghuysen, the sins for which he himself is primarily and principally responsible. Our people are quick to judge but they usually decide on the right side. And, in this case, we think they will hardly conclude that Irish Americans owe anything to James G. Bisine for the assertion or vindication of their rights as citizens of this Republic .- [New York Irish Ameri

The New York Tribune, which is Mr Blaine's principal organ, complimented the Plumed Knight in 1872 as follows:

"The startling exposure of Speaker Blaine's vensilty in connection with the Union Pacific road, Eastern Division, et tirely destroys, of course, whatever credit some people may have given to coast of denial of the Oakes Ames bribery, and putthe whole case of the Credit Mobiler upon a different basis. . Now it is shown that Speaker Blaine never destroyed his good reputation. He had taken bribes in anoth ur case."

"We have shown Mr. James (), Blaine (since the Speaker of te il use and the monitor Charles Sumner on fidelity to pris ciple) as the Oakes Ames of the Pacific, rail. way, Eastern Division; the Congressions! procurer, waces business was to place the stock where it would do the most good. " The crushing force of the exposure has proved so terrible that something had to be put forward to lie out of it. Of course the New York Times was ready. Mr. Blaine's friends-had better restrain his volunteer apologist,"

The record against Blaine is made up of facts which have been established. His corruptions have been exposed and de nounced not alone by these who are now opposed to him, but by those also who are now his most zealous supporters. They affect his public record. While smirching his own character he has polluted a high public office and betrayed a public trust. The pretended charges against Cleveland, on the other hand, are baseless rumors so transparently false and calumni ous that no reputable Blaine journal even will father them. To their credit, be it said, the republican organs of the better class will not give them currency. They are as shallow as they are despicable, and are of the character of campaign capards, which every cardidate can afford to pass without notice .- [New York World.
